20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Proposal Review Panel reviews and evaluates applications and proposals submitted to the division in response to program solicitations. Types of items reviewed are: Integrative Graduate Education and Research Training proposals and Graduate Research Fellowships Applications. Panelists provide written recommendations on these proposals as a part of the selection process for awards. External advice is essential to NSF's selection process.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The programs invite nominations of outstanding candidates from all fields of science and engineering. The membership of the panel reflects the discipline breadth of applicants.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The Panel meets in response to program solicitations. In FY 18, 111 panel meetings were required.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

Panel review can provide judgments about the comparative merits within a group of proposals or within a single complex or multidisciplinary proposal. Panel discussion is more appropriate in cases such as the selection of graduate research traineeships than is ad hoc mail review.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

To review proposals and/or Fellowship applications that included information of a proprietary or confidential nature, including technical information; financial data such as salaries; and personal information concerning individuals associated with the proposals.

21. Remarks

Narrative Description

The NSF mission is set out in the NSF Act of 1950 authorizes and directs the Agency to initiate and support: basic scientific research and research fundamental to the engineering process; and science and engineering education programs at all levels and in all fields of science and engineering. The involvement of knowledgeable peers from outside the Foundation in the review of proposals is the keystone of NSF's proposal review system. Their judgments of the extent to which proposals address the merit review criteria are vital for informing NSF staff and influencing funding recommendations.
